

- Full Name
 - Michael James Haviland
- Date of Birth
 - May 30, 1970
 - Sign: Gemini
 - Strengths: Gentle, affectionate, curious, adaptable, ability to learn quickly and exchange ideas
 - Weaknesses: Nervous, inconsistent, indecisive
 - Chinese Zodiac: Gold Dog
 - Conservative, desirable, cautious, and always ready to help others
- Past relationships
 - Lucy Haviland: Michael's mother
 - Michael's mother has always been the cornerstone of Michael's life. He got much of his outgoing personality from her. As an only child, he got smothered with attention from his mom. However, when Michael wanted to pursue acting professionally she didn't approve. She recently developed breast cancer and, while she does have a chance of survival, it was the biggest fear in Haviland's life, at least until now.
 - Gerald Haviland: Michael's father
 - Gerald was never around much in Michael's life. Although he was supportive, he often walked away when conflict arose within the family. A successful lawyer, he'd often ask questions he already knew the answer to, just to get under Michael's skin. As a result, Michael would often go to his mom for advice.
 - Heather Reynolds
 - Michael's college girlfriend, they met when they were both auditioning in the city. She was the first girl he ever fell in love with. Unfortunately, she died after getting behind the wheel after a night of drinking and crashing into a telephone pole. Michael still blames himself for not being there for her. Since that incident, Michael has given up his party ways and has been a lot more conscious about how he lives his life.
- Current relationships
 - Mary Haviland
 - Michael's wife. She has an easygoing receptionist job and doesn't think too much about her professional life. She tries to be supportive of her husband's neurotic behavior, but sometimes it gets too much. Often she just gives up and let's Michael have his alone time. He's been doing a lot better recently, but since the murder he has been fixated on the house and goes away for long periods of time. She is worried that he is cheating on her.

- Carrie Haviland
 - Michael's 12 year old daughter. She is top of her class in Wildwood Park Middle School, but lately the girls have started to get mean to her because her acne is acting up. However, she remains kind to everyone and gets by with the support of her family.
- John Haviland
 - Michael's 14 year old son. He just started high school and is trying to try out for the baseball team but his dad hasn't been around enough lately to help him practice so he's been training on his own.
- Harold Steinberger
 - Michael's therapist. Michael used to go to him when they moved to Wildwood Park about 15 years ago but stopped for awhile when he was believed to improve. However, he recently started going again to relieve him about his paranoia about his house.
- The Evans
 - The family from the house. Haviland has never met the family, but had heard their names from his wife. Haviland has spent nearly every day at the house since the murder, as he was assigned to sell the house.
- Religious Affiliation
 - Born again Christian: After the incident he started going to Church again. It gave him relief and allowed him to blame himself less for what had happened.

Confidants/Friendships: Michael has never had any trouble making and keeping friends. However, lately he has spent all his time in this house, and he's lost connection with a lot of people.

Occupation: Haviland is a real estate agent, and a great one at that. The job provides order and structure for Haviland because it distracts him from. Wildwood Park is a well off town where many executives go after making it big in the city. As a result, the Havilands live well off and Dreams: Michael once dreamed about being an actor. However, after Heather died he opted to abandon his dream of being an actor and decided to go into real estate instead, using his theatre background to drive sales.

Goals: Save up enough money to send his kids to college without any debt, find enough time to relax at their Eastern shore house, and live a nice, quiet life.

Likes: Soft rock (John Mayer, Jack Johnson), showtunes, cheese, dogs

Dislikes: Tomatoes, surprises, cats
